Just What is “Genealogy”?

Genealogy (from Greek: γενεά genea, “generation”; and λόγος logos, “knowledge”), is the study of families and the tracing of their lineages and history. In many ways, it is a form of detective work! Genealogists use oral interviews, historical records, genetic analysis, and other records to obtain information about a family and to demonstrate kinship and pedigrees of its members. The results are often displayed in charts or written as narratives.

“Genealogy” can be defined as:

- One’s line of descent traced continuously from an ancestor: combing through the birth records and genealogies.
- The study and tracing of lines of descent or development.
- The study of family history, including the study of who were the ancestors of a particular person. Or;
- A particular person’s line of ancestors; a diagram that illustrates the lineage.

....and what about “Family History” ?

“Family History” is more than ‘genealogy’. Family Historians want to know about the places their ancestors lived in; their occupations and interests; what they ate and wore; why and how they travelled, and many more aspects of their lives. The records (which throw light on these things, when you know where to find them and how to use them) are rich in information about all these aspects of your ancestors’ lives. With this material, the past - your past - our country’s past - will begin to come to life!

Once you start collecting material from your family and searching for more information to fill the gaps, you'll quickly realize that there are many other people from all walks of life and of all ages who have the same or similar interests to your own. One of the reasons why Ukrainian Genealogical Group exists is to help such people get together in order to share their experiences and help each other with their problems.

Documenting your findings is strongly supported by the UGG-NCR!
